The St. Anthony Park Bagle

Complaining of seasonably cold temperatures, Steve Rouch, photographer, gazed down on 194 from above. His perspective serves as a luminous reminder of the awesome transit problems facing city dwellers. MTC with guidance from Metropolitan Council continues to seek long-range solutions to these problems.

GROUP HOME FOR YOUNG PEOPLE MAY OPEN IN PARK

By Steve Rouch

A Group Home for young people with behavioral problems may open in St. Anthony Park, if the proposal passes the City Council in December. The proposed group house, located at 2101 Knapp Avenue, will be a 10-bed facility aimed at being "a community based treatment center for troubled young people". According to its founder Dr. Ronald Collins, "The idea behind Group Homes, Inc. is to divert kids from institutions into a more open setting." The young people involved would come from all backgrounds with problems ranging from truancy to runaways. No "serious" delinquents or chemically dependent young people would be accepted into the program. The age group of those in the program would range from 12-18 years of age, with the average group centering from 12-14 years.

Dr. Ronald Collins opened his first group house in St. Paul in July of 1973. Since then a total of three Group Homes have operated in the City. Collins holds a Ph.D. in psychology, and he has worked extensively with youth. Formerly a director of a mental health center, he worked with an adolescent unit and he has also spent time as an Assistant Professor of Psychology.

Problems facing implementation of the group house project are possible zoning law conflicts and possible negative reaction in the neighborhood to the program. On November 21, the City Zoning Board approved application for a special use permit according to John Rutford, St. Anthony Park Association President. Final approval for the project will have to come from the City Council in December.

The problem of possible negative reaction may prove to be much more subtle and complex. "At first people in areas where the program started were wary about having delinquents live in their neighborhood," commented Dr. Collins, "but now people are responding in a positive way." One thing Dr. Collins stressed was the fact that involvement between the community and the Group Home is an important step for many of the young people participating in the program. "We don't claim to not have our problems—but I would liken our problems to the problems found in every family."

NEIGHBORHOOD PATROL PLAN TO BE STUDIED

Perhaps there is an effective way to deal with neighborhood vandalism.

The St. Paul City Council passed Councilman David Hozza's resolution asking for a study of a plan to set up a system of regular neighborhood patrols conducted by citizens. The resolution asks the Mayor to appoint a task force to study whether such a system would work in St. Paul.

In discussions with the St. Paul Police, Hozza found that they have been studying a Neighborhood Assistance Officers' (NAO's) program which Dayton, Ohio has used for the past four years. The majority of their work has been handling minor calls, such as barking dogs, curfew violations, park and playground checks, building security and surveillance.

Hozza said the St. Paul Police have already indicated an interest in establishing such a program here, and it is up to the task force to determine if the plan would work in St. Paul. A report from this task force should be ready within the next 6 months. The task force is to be representative of senior citizens, youth groups, neighborhood associations, the Police Department and Federation, the City Administrator's Office, the City Council and any other interested groups.

PARKING PROBLEMS

The Planning Committee met to discuss parking conditions. Of foremost concern was off-street parking by university students. Mr. Smrka of the Dept. of Public Works attended the meeting, but no university officials were present.

The committee very much wants the university to participate in seeking a solution to the parking problem.

The committee expressed the desire to see the university provide incentives for students to park on university property.

The second topic for discussion concerned the possible parking lot at Scudder and Knapp for the St. Anthony Park Elementary school. The feeling was that no action should be taken until the availability of the Methodist church lot be explored. The consensus was that the area lacked open space, and a parking lot would be a source of visual pollution and perhaps a poor expenditure for the school.

JANUARY MEETING

The next membership meeting will feature guest speaker Paul L. Murphy, Professor of History at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Murphy will talk on historical cycles in education. Honored guests for the evening will be teachers from Murphy and the elementary school.

OF CABBAGES AND KINGS

"City Fathers Night" featured St. Paul Council members. After dinner, Ruby Hunt, Leonard Lavine, Vic Tedesco, David Hozza, Bob Sylvester and Jack Christianson all spoke briefly to residents of matters such as financial planning, total energy recovery and recycling, Neighborhood Assistance Organizations and the citizen participation ordinance. Jack Christianson pointed to the sad irony that while governmental structures have been more responsive to human needs in passing unprecedented amounts of civil rights legislation, at the same time members of our society seem to have lost a basic respect for property and people.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Five hundred handicapped people from the Twin City area will gather for a Christmas Party on December 12.

"No funds are available for the party, so we're relying on donations," says Mary Stransky. If you want to donate food, games, prizes, wrapping paper, or money, contact Mary at 786-8334.

Commonwealth Terrace
Commonwealth Terrace Manager Harold Teasdale notified the board of directors that he'll be leaving as of July 1.

A Committee was established to find a replacement. Those serving are Tom Jahnke, Dave Olds, Ken Bartelt, Chuck Odegaard, Chris Doyle, Leonardo Goldstein, and Teasdale himself, as a consultant.

Teasdale sees flexibility as the most important single factor to look for in a manager, and he doesn't find "a whole lot of bookkeeping, maintenance and special skills" a necessary part.

"It's the ability to work with the people who have these special skills that is necessary," he said.

"A satisfaction with seeing things develop, change and grow," he sees as the major benefits from the job.

At 31, Teasdale leaves the job after more than two and a half years. According to his philosophy, if you give much more time than that "you get a little stale...some personalities may be suited for it...but I think a constant change is good for the co-op," he said.

The Homer, MN, native came to the Terrace after earning a Masters in Transportation Planning from the University of Minnesota. He was graduated from Annapolis in 1965, and entered the Marine Corps. After five years of service, the idea of world travel as a civilian grabbed him, and he spent five months doing just that.

The basic concept of the co-operative is the way he "likes to live...actually several people and myself started a co-op house, which we're trying to run...I'm all for it."

After retiring from his hectic job, Teasdale plans to spend some time in the mountains — away from it all.

An agreement was reached between the University and Commonwealth Terrace Cooperative management on the Como Housing Project currently under construction between 27th and 29th Avenues S.E.

Under the terms of the agreement, the Co-op will rent-up and manage the project until the residents are able to vote, at their decision, how their housing project will be run.

The Board of Directors of Commonwealth Terrace Cooperative favor Como becoming a cooperative. But it will be up to the residents in Como to decide how best to establish their own operation and to what degree they will be affiliated with the Commonwealth Terrace Cooperative. At the same time, Commonwealth Terrace Cooperative residents will have to concur on the degree of involvement with Como.

Presently the Como project consists of 279 two- and three-bedroom units. They will be renting for $185 per month and $212 per month respectively.

ASSOCIATION OF ST. PAUL COMMUNITIES ESTABLISHED

In cooperation with the Human Resources Planning Council of the Saint Paul Area, a new organization has formed, calling itself the Association of St. Paul Communities. Exciting is its promise to help governmental units become responsive to people and their neighborhood concerns.

"Neighborhood groups in St. Paul have a tremendous opportunity before them right now. Decisions are being made at the local level which will affect our daily lives for years to come. If we wish to participate effectively in the making of these decisions, we must be strong, informed and skilled. The Association of St. Paul Communities has assumed as its present role facilitator to these ends. We are committed to providing programs and services which will strengthen and build neighborhood groups."

Todd Lefko, president of the new organization, has a column in the group's publication, Association News Notes. Following are excerpts from his latest column:

"Information is the key to knowledge and action. . . . For our groups to become more effective, we will need to raise the level of civic education in St. Paul; to increase what Leonard Cottrell terms 'the level of community competence.'"

"First, I would propose a joint effort by the League of Women Voters, Chamber of Commerce, Association of St. Paul Communities, the school district, the city government and the press, to develop material and short courses. . . ."

"Citizens would be able to offer constructive alternatives rather than be limited to opposing often mystical programs and decisions. In the past periods of expansion, unclear government was a blessing to those governing. Now, in a period of different units being called upon to explain and defend even status quo expenditures, increased community knowledge will be necessary for governments own defense. . . ."

"Second, the Association will be developing materials to make the governmental quagmire less of a sacred mystery. These would be 'how to' booklets, which are written in English and not in 'bureaucratese.'"

"Third, the question of application of this knowledge would be eased by a change in administrative procedures. I am quite excited by the ideas being developed by Councilman Bob Sylvester to turn the budget into an on-going item, with presentation in the form of understandable priorities. For the first time, not only might there be understanding of the fiscal position under which the city works, but choices and possible alternatives will be presented.

"Fourth, as our excellent program on participation in schools indicated, too many of our groups have been established to relate to the city on zoning and land matters. Land is only one aspect of the quality of life in St. Paul. The level of social services and education become increasingly important, and yet the schools, county and metro governments constitute seemingly foreign and unrelated principalities. It is becoming increasingly apparent that our groups will have to become involved with the schools and their long range planning on a regular relationship. . . . Thus to be more effective, we will need increased information, new forms of education and training, new governmental approaches and changes in our view of with whom our associations should and must relate."

The Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 is one of the first attempts of the U.S. Congress at implementing the concept of special revenue sharing. This is a consolidation of many current federal programs into a block grant of money, aimed at providing firm funding levels for several years and to insure control of these funds by local elected officials.

This Act affects South St. Anthony Park in that the Neighborhood Development Program (NDP) is one of the existing programs included in this consolidation. Since the conception of the renewal program, funding has come through the NDP program.

St. Paul is scheduled to receive

$18.8 million dollars a year, for the next three (3) years, for Community Development (CD). This does not represent new money, but a consolidation of existing federal aid. All funds will come directly to the City Government, from there being distributed to various programs. These monies do not have to be spent on programs presently in operation. Therefore, since funds to complete our renewal are no longer guaranteed under the NDP program, it is essential that residents plan and show a justification for continuing the program.

We have made a good start in renewing the neighborhood, but much remains to be done. If we work together, we can finish rebuilding. If we do nothing, it is possible that we could be left with only half of what South St. Anthony Park should be.

There is a House Recycling Program in the planning stages for South St. Anthony Park, that may be just right for you. Single family homes are at a premium in St. Paul. There are many individuals who for a variety of reasons do not wish or are unable to rehab their homes, but would like to sell their homes and move into apartments. Under this program HRA would purchase these houses, rejuvenate them and offer them for sale to families. While the program is not operational at this time, the preliminary steps have been taken and the PAC Office would like to know of any area resident who might find this program helpful. Call and leave your name, 646-8884.

VIDEO SERIES

Changing Channels, a video magazine of local and alternative programming, will continue its bi-weekly series on KTCA channel 2 on Wednesday, December 18, 1974, at 10 p.m.

The sixth program in the series will include: A look at different communities and their traditions. Pieces include: Mexican American Independence Day celebration; A Polish "Kiermasz" festival in North Minneapolis; A.I.M.'s fight to free Sarah Badheart Bull; Bernadette Devlin on the struggle in Northern Ireland; "The Estonian House" in South Minneapolis; and "The Small World Conspiracy."

University*Community Video, under whose auspices the series is produced, trains students and community groups in the use of portable videotape equipment and lends them the equipment to use in their own projects.

VACANT BUILDING LAW ADOPTED

The City Council has adopted an ordinance sponsored by Councilman John E. Christensen that will require the registration of vacant, hazardous buildings in the City of St. Paul.

The ordinance will be an additional tool to help us focus on the need for housing rehabilitation so that the quality of inner-city neighborhoods can be maintained, Councilman Christensen said. "It is futile for residents in a block to maintain their properties if other properties in the same block are allowed to deteriorate. We need to act to remove the uncertainty about our neighborhoods so that people can more confidently move into them."

Opportunity knocks when Shaklee comes to call!

Right now, the Shaklee Family is looking for new distributors for our fine line of household cleaners, food supplements, cosmetics and toiletries.

You needn't be concerned about whether you've ever sold before or not—for selling is not the word when it comes to Shaklee products. Rather you'll find it simply a matter of sitting down with your friends and neighbors and chatting about the products. Basic-H, for example is a concentrated, non-polluting, biodegradable household cleaner. A one-wipe demonstration can sell itself. And this ready acceptance is true for virtually all our Shaklee products.

A $15 distributor kit puts you in business and if after 60 days you change your mind, the Shaklee Family will refund your money. You can make it a full-time job—or merely part-time, to add to your family income. Many Shaklee distributors work as a husband and wife team. For information on how you can become a Shaklee distributor, call
